

Telcogames Move Into The US

Thursday, 21st December 2006

Telcogames Launches SiL On US Carrier Verizon

Telcogames, a global publisher, developer and distributor of mobile games steps out into the US with the launch of award winning SiL on US carrier Verizon.

Verizon joins the long list of Telcogames distribution channels as the Smartphone publisher boldly moves into the BREW market with their award winning SiL title. Verizon is the first of many BREW carriers that Telcogames will sign up as it takes it's own developed Smartphone titles into the US.

The first of these titles is SiL a 3D silhouette matching puzzle game available for Smart phone devices and for download on PC. The game was recently launched across carriers and non-carriers globally and has already generated buzz in the puzzle market having recently been awarded 'Best Game' at the Nokia Pro Awards.

Enda Carey, MD, Publishing, said, "The launch of SiL on Verizon networks is key to our US expansion and we in the process of signing other deals across the US networks".

January 2007 will also see the launch of Super Drop Mania, which offers a novel twist on the Tetris puzzle with its addictive range of logic challenging reflex games.

Super Drop Mania will launch across operators globally and will be available to buy direct or on a monthly rental basis.

 BACK