

telcogames to distribute spiderman 3 in sony pictures 8 product deal

Monday, 30th April 2007

Telcogames to distribute content on behalf of Sony Pictures in eight product distribution deal.

Telcogames announced an exciting partnership with one of the world's leading brand owners, Sony Pictures, to distribute eight of Sony's award-winning games across designated territories.

Included in the distribution deal is the game based on the movie blockbuster Spiderman 3, from which two games will launch based on the movie franchise – a casual and an action game for all major mobile phones. Other exciting products within this licence agreement include Wheel of Fortune, Playstation Ratchet & Clank, Monster House, Q: Bert, Playstation God of War and the ever controversial Snoop Dogg appearing in his own driving game – watch out pedestrians! Driving.

The Deal sees Telcogames to distribute the titles exclusively across designated territories within EMEA. The first of the titles to be launched will be Playstation Ratchet & Clank, Monster House and QBert, with Spiderman 3 making its appearance to coincide with the cinema and DVD releases respectively.

Jamie Conyngham, CEO of Telcogames, commented "The Sony deal is an exciting partnership that allows us to distribute Sony's content across designated EMEA territories. There's a fantastic line up of games which lend themselves perfectly to the Mobile platform offering high quality gaming experiences". This deal with Sony underlines our commitment to distributing and marketing big-brand games with exciting game play that appeal to everyone."